Current Design
(interactive charts are not shown here)

Redesign of the correlates secion

What it looks like

To make entries more useful in the main and easy to navigate we need to shorten the length of an entry.
The Correlates, determinants and consequences section no longer needs to be a long list. It can be shortened into a row of accordions and linked shorter pages.

How it behaves